

Over 100 participants attend RBI Investor Day in London

Vienna/London, 17 March 2016. Raiffeisen Bank International AG (RBI) held a presentation today in London for institutional investors and analysts from the world's major financial centers. The event has taken place on the day after the publication of the full year results for several years. This year it was again met with a great deal of interest among the more than 100 participants. Karl Sevelda, RBI's Chief Executive Officer, delivered a positive assessment of the progress of the transformation program, launched just over a year ago: "at a level of 11.5 per cent, we have already come a long way towards meeting our target of a fully loaded CET1 ratio of at least 12 per cent by the end of 2017. The measures taken are clearly bearing fruit."

After the presentation on strategic developments, Martin Grill (Chief Financial Officer) and Johann Strobl (Chief Risk Officer) gave a detailed review of the figures for 2015. In the subsequent discussion session, Management addressed further questions from the attending equity and debt investors, equity and credit research analysts as well as rating analysts. At the end of the event, the Management Board was available for bilateral discussions and a more in-depth exchange of ideas.

Currently, 28 equity analysts and 22 credit research analysts provide investment recommendations on RBI. This makes RBI the Austrian company with by far the largest number of research houses regularly reporting on it.
